TORBISH DEFENCES.

Hurried Proparations Against Bulgaria.

The Daily Telegraph's Athenscorrespondent wrote recently :--

In reference to a passage contained in M, Radoulavoff sinterview recently granted to the United Press, that Turkey is muchstronger than Europe generally believes, f that the Bulgarian Premier used this expression advisedly on the basis of the fol-lowing information in the possession of the Bulgarian General Staff. For some months past, and especialy since. Bulgaria bevan to nepotiate with the Allies, formidable. defensive works have bee a undertaken on the Chatalja lines. At the present moment, and for some considerable time past, no fewer than 30,000 laboure a have been engaged on these works. Four porallel rulway lines have been built, disappearing platforms expuble of carrying a whole armoured train have been constructed, and channels and dykes are in process of con-struction by which the water of Lake Derko will be used to flood ne riy the whole area before the Chatalia lines.

It is the opinion of the Bulgarian General Staff that to force these lines when these defence works are fully completed, and it is expected they soon will be, an army of 600,000 men will be required, and it is calculated that nearly half this number will be placed out of action before they can be carried. There may be a not montural disposition on the part of the Bulgarians to magnify the difficulties they may be called upon to confront if they choose to throw in their lot with the Allies; hence the above statements may be somewhat exaggerated but that the Turks have been strengthening their Chatalj, defences, and that they are employing the number of men above quoted. I have had confirmed from quarters whose interests lie in the opposite way."

SNIPERS SNIPED.

Sergeant Dewar who was the King's Prize winner at Bisley in 1914, is recovering from a sunstroke at Westminster Hospital. He relates that his regiment at the Dardanslies suffered severely from Turkish saipers from behind, who shot three men. Dewar grept down as old communication trench, and spotted a Turk, with his face, hand, and ritle ameared with soil, and his body covered with foliage. He (Dawar) waited for his chance and got him through the forebend. He stalked another Turk and got him in the back of the head. The Turks torned a machine gun on him every time he moved, and he had to lie on his face for four hours. " It was the sun that bowled me over." he added.

A terrible pictorial indicatment of the atrocities committed by German soldiers is contained in the report of the Extrabrdinary Commission of Inquiry appointed by the Tsar to investigate the many acts of brutality practised by the enemy. In the report brief accounts of each case "are given, illustrated by portraits of the rictims and the mutilations they have undergane. It is an appalling record, says the "Daily Telegraph." Russian soldiers have had their cars clipped with seisson and their tongues mutilated. their noses cut about and scarified. Explosive bullets have shattered their limbs and caused ghastly wounds, and posonone gas has Incerated their lungs. In the village of Kholichki was found the 8.50 p.m. and 9 p.m. 3,30 p.m. to 11.00 charred body of a rifeman who had been burnt slive by the Germans. The report tells a tale of anyagery and atrocity that nothing can controvert.

"Bitterness Towards England."

The Berlin correspondent of the "Kolnische Volkszeitung" says :- | could have no success unless we in effect A characteristic of the Chancellor's speech in the Reichster was the intil gave a promise of absolute neutrality severity towards England. It was as if the Chancellor with phy while Germany remained free under he louthing when he spoke of Sir E. Grey's frivolity and bloodguilt in this Alliances to take part in European war When he spoke of England the House listened breathlessly to the descrip! This can, and shall, be explained by pub of how England strangled and violated the rights of neutrals. When, tow lishing an account of the negotiations the end, the Chanceller pleaded for the good intentions of his former pro-linken from the records in the Foreign lish policy, the Reichster showed that it accepted his explanations, although there was little or no applicase. In that part of the speech there was appare much "disappointment, personal bitterness, and acerbity against England.

The correspondent notes that the Chan, yesterday smote his enemies. He cellor spoke hardly at all of France or eble to prove by documents that the fate of Belgium, but says that the British Premier, as Sir F. GERMAN AIMS AND PRETEXTS. Letter From Sir Edward Grey.

A Fight for Freedom.

(To the Editor of The Times-

Sir There are some points in the speech of the German Chancellor, made epresentative in Vienes prove the last week, which may, I think, be suitably dealt with in a letter to the Press, 1. The Belgian record of conversation prove that Dolgium had prafficked be s plot with us against Gormany.

The conversation of which most use had been made was never reported to the there Foreign Office nor as far as records we saw a record of it for the first time when tiermany published the Belman racord. But it bears on the face of it that iv referred only to the contingency of Delgripp being stacked that the entry of the British into Delgium would taken place only after the violation of Belgian territory by Goment and that it did not commit the British Government. No Convention or agreement existed between the British Catif Belgion Governmenta. Why does the Openin Changelor mention these informations of 1006 and imore entirely that in April 1014 of Belgium, as in that of other neutral Litold the Helgian Minister most emphaof Belgium jos is that of other neutral countries, was that their neutrality should be respected, and that as long or it was not violated by may other Power we Conference indicates to the Senotiful caractely not send troops out that demand or August 19 not yielsted by may other Power we vance into France by the quickest and ensient way, so as to be able to get well shead with their operations and endesvonrito strike some decisive blow as early as possible. It was a matter of life und weigh for inem, as, It they had gone by the more southern route, they could mit have hoped in view of the pasterty of roads and the strongth of the fortresues, to have got through without formidable opposition entailing great loss of hime. This loss of time would have meant time gained by the Russians for bringing up their troops to the German frontier. Rapidity of schion was the great German esset, while that of Russia was exhaustible supply of troops.

In the Reichston, too, on the 4th August. 1914, the German Chancellor stated, in referring to the violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxem-

The wrong I speak openly the wrong we thereby commit we will try to make good as soon as our military aims have been attained.

The violation of Bolgian neutrality was therefore deliberate, although Germany had actually guaranteed that neutrality. and surely there has been nothing more despicably mean than the attempt to justify it ex post facto, by bringing against the innocent and inoffensive Belgian Government and people the totally false charge of having plotted against Germany. The German Chancellor does not amphasize in his latest speech that charge, which has been spread broadesst against Belgium. THE KAISER'S READING OF THE APOCALYPSE.

His. " Mission."

Many have outerprised and taken in hand to set forth a milenal hypothesis which will account for the payenciety of modern Germany. A somewhat close study of Germany and Germans since 1903, both in Germany itself, in the Near East, and further affold, has led me to the and further affold. has led me to the conclusion set forth in this article, writes "R.W." in the "Daily Express." I write of what I have come to believe is the basic secret of modern German life. I wish to add something what so many people knew for a fact years ago and preached—rightly preached—in season and out: namely, that the German Emperor was preparing to blast his way to the centre of the sun I want to write something that I have naver seen written. It is that the headspring of modern German thought rises in the German Emperor's religio-political doctrine of his imperial person, and that the mates, one for a road similar to the existing from this doctrine. from this doctrine

We have good evidence that for many years the German Emperor has dabbled in astrology, and it is demonstrable, that astrology and apocalyptic are close y related. The title, "All-highest War Lord," has its roots here. The "height" means that position when the favourable star is at its. conith. The king who makes war at that. hour is "the blessed."

HELFED BY EVIL . He smites with the breath of his mou and subjects all things under his feet. Evil, especially sexual and sensual, becomes hisad otant : plague and pestilence are his handmaids to he poisons the air for his profit, and turns the sen to blood for his-gain. His hordes have power over the waters to turn; them to blood and to smite the earth with every plague as often as they shall desire. He has the divine dispensation to make all their works pollution. an uncleanness and an abomination. He stretches out his hand to break the staff of bread and to send noisome beasts and the sword and cut off man and beast. The and agreement between nations after this lass coast against sea coast, country against war; but not by itself alone, not while country, home against home, man against kill one another at his patiention, and after a time he, the Akkadian, shall come, overthrow all, and conquer all of them. So well prepared are his plans that when he strikes there will be no iron ready for war, nor garment for a cost of mail. And when all things are ready the world shall be frightened at him as sheep by a wolf. He shall make sudden war as It is very extraordinary that the German Emperor and his whole people should have followed these speculyptic pictures so closely, and translated their terrible imagery into more terrible fact. When the Kaiser went to war he did so with the conviction that his hour, fixed by celestial powers had struck; be believed that the nations would powder to dust, as a corpse long confined crumbles at the truck of air; he believed that world domination would come to him within a small span of time, and that this super domination had been planned at the fountain head of eternity. Now when there ideas first began; to grip modern Germany they were so pulsunt that they rapidly laid hold of every departmentrof life and thought. They established the oult of the "interim." and affected the heart of Germany, with a most unmateral pulsation. Mush-room philosophies sprang un as it were in a night, War became a divine duty, and all past wars were viewed; as morely preliminary steps to the last great Germanic war which was to conquer is no, our Allies and we are fighting and the world.

This is the socret underlying of all that has happen ed since the dropping of the pilot. There is a great cleavage between the Bism rokian policy of blood and from and the Prus ian policy of frightfulness, I am convinced that the latter outrageous doctrine can only have taken its birth in a valido political syncrotismay To my mind this sions mests the facts and accounts for the troud of Welt-politik. FOOTING GAINED AT SEVERAL NEW POINTS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

LATEST DETAILS FROM THE WEST FRONT.

LONDON, Sept. 30. A Paris telegram announces that further progress has been made. A communique states that the German counter attack in Artois morely consisted of a most violent bombardment of the new French positions to the East of Souchez.

We gained a footing in Champagne at several points of the German's second defensive positions. Indeed, near Navarrin, certain French units went bayond the German second positions, when they were met by a curtain of fire and the most violent of flanking bombardments. Nevertheless, they held firmly the enemy's second line position.

ENEMY BOMBARDMENTS.

LONDON, Sept. 30. The enemy violently bombarded the French positions along the Alane, inthe Vially region. The French guns replied energetically, Progress has been made in clearing the battlefield and taking stock of the arms and every kind of park and trench material which the enemy abandoned.

ESTIMATED CAPTURES.

An unofficial Paris estimate of the captures of Germans is put at over 350 officers and 25,000 men.

M. POINCARE CONGRATULATES THE ARMY.

LONDON, Sept. 30. M. Poincare, in a message to the Army, congratulates the men on their incomparable ardour and subline devotion, which had definitely affirmed their superiority over the enemy.

GENERALS DISMISSED.

London, Sept. 3u. An Amsterdam telegram states that the German newspapers says that two Generals have been dismissed owing to the Franco-British successes and the hope is expressed that General von Hindenberg will be sent to the Western Front

THE HAISER DISTRIBUTING CROSSES.

A statement in the Northbertsche, anys an Amsterdam telegram, shows that the Kaiser is now on the Western Front for it says that on the 24th, accompanied by the Crown Prince, he distributed Crosses to the men who had book exposed to especially severe artillery fire.

ON THE EASTERN FRONT.

FIERCE ENEMY ONSLAUGHTS.

Luxbux, Sept. 30. A Petrograd communique states that German attacks near Friedrich studt and Dvinsk were repulsed, but the Russians gave way somewhat south-east of Osmiana, and east of Vilna, while south of Pripet repeated German attacks, strongly reinforced, compelled the Russians to withdray to the right bank of the Styr. Three enemy attacks at Novoalexinetzfailed. There was a desperate engagement on the Styr west of Tarnopol, where the Russians, supported by powerful artillery, captured two Inos of trenches.

GUERILLA BANDS OF PEASANTS.

Lendox, Sept. 30. The Morning Post correspondent at Petrograd states that guerilla the ports of the Land of the Midnight Sun, is that we could have the lack and chance bands are appearing in the rear of the Germans, consisting of persants whose homesteads have been burned, led by Cossacks. Recently a Gerwho had silently crept along the secret paths of the marshes and then timed tailing out of the part of Cardin Marchant Service Guild of which I was once for about three years as Second Officer. the whole column disappeared in the treacharous monies.

NETHERLANDS PROTEST TO GERMANY

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE BIG BATTLE.

BRILLIANT WORK BY THE ANGLEFRENCH FORCES.

LONDON, Sept. 30. Benter's correspondent at Headquarters, writing on the 20th inst. states. that the first glorious charge of the British from the Vermelles trenches on Saturday morning carried them right through the village of Loca to the summit of and beyond Rill 70. The men left the trenches at 6,30 when the sun had risen sufficiently to make the enemy's parapet clearly visible. Officers stood with watches in their hands impatiently waiting for the minute when the batteries in the rear would lengthen their range, and the men with bayonets fixed and landers ready to swarm up the parapets lengthwise. A whistle was sounded, and the troops rushed off in an irresistible penner. They carried the enemy's first and second lines within an hour, and or eight the whole unit in question was streaming through the streets of Loos.

THE DASH THROUGH LOOS.

The Colonel of one Regiment followed his men over the purpet, and when he reached the first of the enemy's menches was astonished to find no trace of the attacking companies. The Colonel crossed the trench, and entered the second line, where he caught eight of his men dushing through Loss village. itself, which was protected by a triple line of wire of extraordinary thickness and strength the barbes being nearly an inch long. The first two bines were destroyed by the artillery, but the third stood still and had to be cut by the men standing up fully exposed to fire. The German dead were piled four deep in some of the trenches. In the village bayonet and bomb work was in full swing in the winding streets. Many of the callars contained Germans, and our bombers, dashing into the houses, pulled up the flags of the callars and dropped their bombs. Hidden machine-guns were discovered in several places and had to be routed out.

A BRAYE GERMAN OFFICER.

The Commander of one battalion was sheltered with signallers in a solidly built house from the German shells, but was soon surprised by a min of projectiles. It was found after a search that there were two super-imposed dugouts in the vicinity, and in the nethermost was a German officer with a telephone, busily directing a battery miles in the rear. Despite the British occupation he had bravely remained at his post, and learning that an officer of importance was in the vicinity he ordered the house to be shelled. Hundreds of dead and wounded were found lying among the debris of the houses, and the church was a mere shapeless mass of bricks. Everywhere there were fortified machine-gun emplacements, especially in the cemetery, and field-guns were found in cemented entrenchments. A few of the French inhabitants were still slive, they being mostly women.

THE LAST RUSH.

The last rush of the attuckers carried the summit of Hill 70, and half a mile cast of the village. Some went beyond till checked by a powerful earthwork defence. The enemies batteries are now concentrating on the Hill, and the attackers have been ordered to entrench a hundred yords from the summit. Fierce fighting continued all round the Hill on Sunday and Monday.

The New Army Battalions were conspicuous in the attack. Men who were inexperienced in real fighting advanced in a most steady manner under a terrible are. They handed the German forts firing from cellars, charged and captured machine-guns tiring through the holes of cottage walls, all amid a terrifying din, while the nir overhead was thick with bursting shrapuel.

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING.

Tempestaous weather is rendering the operations most difficult. The Crown Prince's attack was as farious as any in the war. The Fronch parapets were melted away by the farious bombardment. Then began gushes of liquid fire, but the French stood firm and poured sheets of lead at the advancing Germans. Then there was bloody hand-to-hand fighting. The Frenchmen were almost buried in masses of Germans, but the reserves: not heeding the gas sheets, made the enemy waver. Eventually the Germans returned to their own trenches, and were prevented from bringing up supports by the French game.

ALL NEW POSITIONS MAINTAINED.

LONDON, Sept. 30. A French communique states that fighting has continued all day on the heights between Souchez and Virry: We have maintained all the new captured positions. There is still violent fighting in Champagne before the enemy's rear

With the object of reducing the salient in north Mesnil, where German fractions are still holding ground, we progressed on the slopes of Tahure Knoll and the outskirts of the village, and also north of Massiges.

GERMAN LOSSES EXCEED THREE ARMY CORPS.

The introduction to another communique says: - The Germans have not been forced to abondon along an extended front positions strongly entrenched and which they had orders to resist to the end, but the sustained losses exceed the strength of three Army Corps.

There have already passed through Chalons 17,055 prisoners including 316

THE IMPORT DUTIES.

LONDON, Sept. 30.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Bouar Law, replying to criticisms of the import duties said that they had not been suggested by any Tariff. Reform Ministers, and he believed that they would have been imposed with equal certainty if there were no Unionists in the Cabinet, Indeed, from a Tariff Reform point of view, they were free in form contrary to all the principles laid down in the past. Their sole motive was to enforce economy.

INDIA AND THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Sept. 30.

Mr. Chamberlain, Under Secretary of State for India, replying in the House of Commons to a question put [by Sir John Rees, said no decision had yet been taken on the very important subject of the representation of Indian as the next Imperial Conference, nor can a decision be taken without consultation with the Dominions. But the Vicercy had been authorised to inform the Council that its resolution would receive the most careful consideration of the Government. When the full secount of the debatain the Council is aveilable it will no doubt be read with equal interest and sympathy in all parts of His Majesty's Dominions but the constitution, which is at present fixed by a resolution of the Conference itself. can only be altered with the consent of the Governments represented.

THE ANGLO-FRENCH LOAN IN AMERICA.

LONDON, Sept. 30.

The Angle-French loan syndicate will be the largest of its kind ever formed in the United States, the membership including Banks, Trust Com panies, and individual figureiers from banks in New York alone have signified their intention of joining. The popular character of the support given to the Allies is compared to the reception given to the German loan, which the German bankers, despite frantic appeals to the German-American investory bave been compelled to offer under conditions yielding practically nine percent. Mr. Pierpont Morgan's representative has announced that the response to the loan in all parts of the country has been exceedingly gratifying, and promises to be enthusiastic. Any opposition has virtually disappeared.
